

Mesh, I Fall Over

Are we spiralling down
Hoping that heaven reaches down
Are we spiralling down,
There's something so heavy
Pushing me down

I fall over
I fall over
I've got nothing now
I fall into a place you've been to
But you pull me up somehow

Press my face in the ground
Maybe there's love at the feet of this crowd
Kick my head when it's down
Maybe the sense comes from hearing the sound

I fall over
I fall over
I've got nothing now
I fall into a place you've been to
But you pull me up somehow

Say it doesn't matter
Say its not important
Say that nothing changes
Just smile as you read the pages.

It's to late for me now
Its too late for heaven to hear my vows
Pull me close to your mouth
Taste the soil, spilling out.

I fall over
I fall over
I've got nothing now
I fall into a place you've been to
But you pull me up somehow

Say it doesn't matter
Say its not important
Just smile as you read the pages.
