

Mesh, Shatters

(I don't believe you anymore)

Put away those eyes
Stop your mouth from moving, its only breath and lies
Bite down, kill the words
They'll only poison you they'll make you stomach burn

No heaven inside
Just mistrust and lies
In you bedroom so warm
This sickness was born

You could've stopped a scene
You couldn't want it cause you always live so clean
In your smile, there's no belief
Those lips are cracking now
Just like the flesh beneath

No feeling and no tears
Just wasted so much
Wasted years
Your hands, so old
Your beauty so cold

I don't belong with you
Cause everyone is broken that you know
I need dreams to cling to
Cause everything shatters around you

You didn't need a friend
You just needed sympathy
You just need an ear to bend
Took all that I could give
So tired of giving now
I can't live the way you live

Empty, Resigned
Choking and blind
Your pleasure
Was my fate
But your kindness
Was too late

I don't belong with you
Cause everyone is broken that you know
I need dreams to cling to
Cause everything shatters around you