Mest, Jaded (These Years) (Real)

There's a time and place for everything There's a reason why certain people meet There's a destination for everyone What's the explanation when we're done

All the summer nights spent wondering So many questions asked but no one's answering Would it be okay if I left today? Took my chances on what you said was wrong

I'm jaded, stupid, and reckless Not sorry and I'll never regret These years spent so faded and reckless Not sorry and I'll never regret these years I'll never regret these years

Now here I sit so far away Remembering all our memories It's times like these that I miss you most Remembering when we were so close

I'm jaded, stupid, and reckless Not sorry and I'll never regret These years spent so faded and reckless Not sorry and I'll never regret these years

I'll never forget the places we've been You and I Our lives are slipping away Don't want to let time pass us by By...

I'm jaded, stupid, and reckless Not sorry and I'll never regret These years spent so faded and reckless Not sorry and I'll never regret

I'm jaded, stupid, and reckless Not sorry and I'll never regret These years
