Metro Station, Make Believe

Well I sleep with you but you dream of him and pretend every touch of my hand is his you lead me on in the same trip I can tell by your eyes what you truly feel, oh I tuck you in after you drink I take advantage of this opportunity but I lay awake thinking of her and you just put your hands on me as you have before I am yours and you are mine just as we go on pretending tonight we both know this is make believe I dont believe you when you said I swept you off your feet We'll both fake it pretend we'll make it make it as we have with a past lover x2 Close your eyes and drift fast asleep as I pleasure you with my company my eyes are fake because I'm staying awake how can I sleep dreaming of her with you next to me? We'll both fake it pretend we'll make it make it as we have with a past lover x2
