

Mica Paris, Whisper A Prayer

Me and my heart
Lying so still in the dark
Oh I could reach out and touch you
Feel the warmth of your skin
But it's enough just to know where you are

So what do I do
Knowing a dream can come true
Oh now I'm holding my breath
Don't want to open my eyes
Don't want to wake up again without you

So I whisper a prayer tonight
Whisper your name
And hope that you hear me
And wherever your dreams may fly
Just take me there
Oh I whisper a prayer tonight

Hold back the sun
Let the stars slip away one by one
Oh how I'm longing to wake you
See the love in your eyes
And feel the rush as the morning comes
I wanna hold on to this just once

So I whisper a prayer tonight
Whisper your name
And hope that you hear me
And wherever your dreams may fly
Just take me there
I whisper a prayer tonight

This leap of faith is a risk we take
And I can't pretend that I'm not afraid

So I whisper a prayer tonight
Whisper your name
And hope that you hear me
And wherever your dreams may fly
Just take me there
I whisper a prayer
tonight
Will you always be there
Oh I Whisper a prayer tonight
