

Michael Ball, I'll Be There

When the bad times come
And the four winds blow
I'll be there for you - if ever you call
When the road is long
And the breeze gets too strong
I'll be there for you - if ever you call
If ever you feel the rain
And everyone feels the rain - sometimes
Remember to call my name
And I'll be there
When the night is long
And you need to hold someone
I'll be there for you - if ever you call
If ever you feel the rain
And everyone feels the rain - sometimes
Remember to call my name
And I'll be there
I'll be there
When you call me I'll be there
Anywhere
If you call me I will be there
When the night is cold
And you need someone to hold
I'll be there for you - if ever you call
When you need to know the truth
I will whisper "I love you"
And be there for you - if you call
If you feel the rain
And everyone feels the rain - sometimes
Remember to call my name
And I'll be there
I'll be there
When you call me I'll be there
Anywhere
If you call me I will be there
