Michael Ball, Thefirst Man You Remember

(andrew lloyd webber/don black/charles hart)

Michael: I want to be the first man you remember, I want to be the last man you forget. I want to be the one you always turn to, I want to be the one you won't regret. May I be first to say to you look delightful? May I be first to dance you round the floor? The very first to see your face by moonlight? The very first to walk you to your door? Diana: Well, young man, I'd be delighted! There is nothing I owuld rather do! What could be a sweeter memory Than sharing my first dance with you? Michael: I want to be the first man you remember... Diana: The very first to sweep me off my feet. Michael: I want to be the one you always turn to... Diana: The first to make my young heart miss a beat. Michael: Seems the stars are far below us... The moon has never felt so close before... Our first dance will be forever And may it lead to many more! I want to be the first man you remember Diana: The very first to sweep me off my feet. Michael: I want to be the one you always turn to... The first to make your young heart miss a beat. Diana: The very first... Both: The very first...
