

Michael Card, Could it be

In the ebb and flow of living As we wander through the years We're told to listen to a voice We can