

Michael Giles, Progress

In a hurry and a rush
Why are we moving so fast
People running everywhere
For a ticket to travel second class

Destination
Travelling on to a western station

Communication in the air
Where the energy level is high
Chasing illusions without a care
For the magical rhythm in the sky

Making progress making time
For thirty four hours in a day
Anticipating every sign
For taking it easy all the way
