

Michael Kiwanuka, Love & Hate

Standing now, calling all the people here to see the show
Calling all my deamons now to let me go
I need something, give me something wonderful

I believe she won't take me somewhere I'm not supposed to be
You can't steal the things that God has given me
No more pain and no more shame, and misery

You can't take me down
You can't break me down
You can't take me down
/2x

Love and hate, hom much more we supposed to tolerate
Can you see, this world to me the longest day?
Sometimes I get this feeling, makes me hesitate

I believe she won't take me somewhere I'm not supposed to be
You can't steal the things that God has given me
No more pain and no more shame, and misery

You can't take me down
You can't break me down
You can't take me down
/2x

I can see the grace of trouble
And I'm on the way
For the look of everybody I need something more
And now I feel some days of trouble
I'm in the House of gold
For the look of everybody flip behind the wall

Standing now, calling all the people here to see the show
Calling all my deamons now to let me go
I need something, give me something wonderful
