

Michael Penn, This And That

Well you cut me to the quick with some kind of abandon and I'm pouring over every word in my mind
And it isn't making sense
'cause it's coming back at random and I already forgot what I expected to find So maybe it's the wrong game
I shut down the replay maybe it's a case of hardness of heart but I'm down for the count and there's got to be some way to clear out whatever keeps us apart

□ I'll do this

□ and I'll do that

□ I'll be burning canyons for you

□ I'll do this

□ and I'll do that

□ and I will wait forever if you'll be there

Now I haven't got a chance if there's no silver lining

I'm far past the point of doing what's right

I can still strike the match that'll start the mountains shining there might be something new in that light

□ I'll do this

□ and I'll do that

□ I'll be burning canyons for you

□ I'll do this

□ and I'll do that

□ but I can't wait 'till heaven

□ won't be there...
