

Michael Reich, Century Man

Century man

The sun came up just like it always does
Shine down bright on the town
Somewhere in between the
And you wonder if you will be forgiven
For that hole that you left in the sky
What will remain for your

Down by the river where the big turbines whine
Their passing out potassium iodide
Thanks for your
It keeps on getting harder to turn the other cheek
When controversy is howling at your door
What's b
