

Michael Schenker Group, Down The Drain

We share a broken arrow
We share a life
We pray that something better
Will turn this thing around
We are the broken people
We are the ghosts
And I know there ain't nobody
Who can save us now

So let it rain, wash away the pain
Let it rain, and wash it down the drain

We left the water running
Til' the well was dry
I watch while our life's burning
Flames reach for the sky

So let it rain, wash away the pain
Let it rain, and wash it down the drain

If you are lost and never found
If you are down and nowhere bound
If your river's black and your sea is green
Let the rain come down and wash you clean

We braved the stormy waters
And the burning sand
We walked on holy water
To find this no man's land

Let it rain, wash away the pain
Let it rain, and wash it down the drain
