

Michael Schenker Group, I Believe

Heaven helps
Dreams are shattered
Take my hand
Take my life

When prayers have failed
We're bruised and battered
We'll find that land
We'll leave tonight

Help me see, when I'm blinded
I make your dream pull you through
Make me live, when I'm dying
I spend my days, just for you

One morning, one day
One story, one way

I believe, there's a place for everyone
I believe, we can have it all
We can heal, when we are lost and alone
I believe we can change it all

Lights went on, and blurred my vision
Something knocked me off my feet
It drained the fuel, of my ambition
It left me stranded on the street

One morning, one day
One story, one way

I believe, there's a place for everyone
I believe, we can have it all
We can heal, when we are lost and alone
I believe we can change it all

Heaven waits, the wheels are turning
A little faster every day
A twist of fate, left me yearning
For the one, who lost its way

I believe, there's a place for everyone
I believe, we can have it all
We can heal, when we are lost and alone
I believe we can change it all
