

Michael Tolcher, This Is What I Mean By That

Get behind my eyes for another view
Of painted skies beautiful blue
Don't be suprised if you discover it all
Snap into a different frame of mind
It's a game of seek and find
Run the maze with lots of lines in the walls

And this is what i mean by that
This is what i mean by that
This is what i mean by that
Now you understand

Throw on the shoes that you wanna wear
You can choose your favorite pair
Try not to care about the perfect fit
(You're growing)
Ask about the things that you want to know
Plant the seed and leave room to grow
Listen deep cuz you never know what you might hear

And this is what I mean by that
This is what I mean by that
THis is what I mean by that
Now you understand
Now you understand
Now you understand

It's not a game that I can play by myself
Only you can look at me
And see the faces of someone else
You see the faces of someone else
You see the faces of someone else

Get behind my eyes for another view
Of painted skies beautiful blue
Don't be suprised of I'm a lot like you
We'll carve a place for love inside of you
The empty space, let it flow through
And then your face will show your feelings true, yea

And this is what i mean by that
This is what i mean by that
This is what i mean by that
Now you under-
This is what i mean by that
This is what i mean by that
This is what i mean by that
Now you understand
Now you understand
