

Michele Morrone, Angels

A thousand colour paintings you have made for us when I'm done, look at your photograph counting all the days we have been seprate

I disappear and burn like my damn cigarette I just wanna fall asleep and dream of you but listen i wanna tell you that... you should never be scared

and it doesn't matter where or when

I wanna wrap you with my wings and fly like angels with no fears chasing the stars until we get so turned down we're up on the cloud in me you will always find hope it's all about you

it's alright, it's alright 2 bodies, one soul it's you and I
it's you and I

oh one day you'll understand what i wanted to say!
I have no faults in life sometimes a little strange but i can't stop walking 'causing I live for you listen I wanna tell you that you should never be scared

and it doesn't matter where or when
chasing the stars until we get so

it's all about you
it's you and I
