

Michelle Branch, Where Are You Now? (Hotel Paper)

maybe i'd be better on my own no one ever seems to understand me it's easier for me to be alone but there's still a piece of me that feels so empty i've been all over the world i've seen a million different places but through the crowds and all the faces i'm still out there looking for you chorus:

where are you now?
i'm trying to get by with never knowing at all
what is the chance of finding you out there?
or do i have to wait forever?
i write about the things i'll never know and i can't find a moment just to slow down it makes me think i'll never have the chance to figure out what it's all about so tell me what it's all about

chorus

where are you now?
i'm trying to get by with never knowing at all
and i still don't know
where are you now?
i'm trying to get by with never knowing at all
what is the chance of finding you out there?
or do i have to wait
or do i have to wait
or do i have to wait forever?
