

Michelle McManus, One Life

One life with you

So you're leaving
There must be something I can try
Saying sorry
As big as it seemed were words just lost on you and I

Is there something I've been missing
Cos I still need to know is this the end or the beginning

One life with you
Baby that's all I'm asking for
Take me in your arms for ever
One life with you
Baby you know this heart would break, say we can before it's too late

It's so funny
We never really say goodbye
I must be crazy
Kidding myself that you'll still give me one more try

A heart will heal in time
But I pray for the day when I can say that you are mine

One life with you
Baby that's all I'm asking for
Take me in your arms for ever
One life with you
Baby you know my heart would break, say you will before it's too late

It's the same every day, no hiding away (no hiding)
Only you can make it better
Start forever tonight for the rest of our lives
Baby we should be together

One life with you
And that's all I'm asking for
Take me in your arms for ever
One life with you
Don't you know my heart will break, say we can before it's too late

One life with you
And that's all I'm asking for
Take me in your arms for ever
One life with you
Don't you know my heart will break, say we can before it's too late
One life with you
Baby that's all I'm asking for
This time make it for ever baby
