

Michelle Poe, One In A Row

I woke up without that empty feeling
And it stayed away all afternoon
Had dinner with some of my old friends this evening
And never once mentioned you

And today, all day
Not a tear rolled down my face
I didnt break, I was strong
And tonight, all night
I didnt call you or stop by
I just held on and let your memory go
And today, that makes one in a row

When they all said lets go out dancin'
Didnt fight it, I just went along
For the first time
I slow danced when somebody asked me
And it didnt feel quite so wrong

And today, all day
Not a tear rolled down my face
I didnt break, I was strong
And tonight, all night
I didnt call you or stop by
I just held on and let your memory go
And today, that makes one in a row

And tonight, all night
I didnt dream about old times
I just held on and let your memory go
And today, that makes one in a row
