

Michelle Shocked, Early Morning Saturday

The morning sun comes calling thru my window
Falling down around my baby and me
You know there ain't no loving like the loving I'm loving
On an early morning Saturday
I'm a simple woman, it don't take much to make me happy
Just to have you here with me
Just to share some of your sweet loving, baby
On an early morning Saturday
You know it ain't half bad when the sun goes down
I like it even better around half past three
But nothing compares with the love we share
On an early morning Saturday
