

Michigan, Valley Of Death

I walked in the valley of death
Devoted to love and divine
The pounding within of regrets
It's not easy to deal with this kind

I'm walking in the desert land
I'm walking without a plan
The sun will rise stars will fall

I've reconciled with the voice in
my head
I was on trial for things that
I've said
It's over somehow

I walked in the valley of death
Surprising I'm still alive
Been pushed by the sinner himself
This case makes your innermost thrive

I've tried to carry on white pride
I'm starting to die inside
I need a little peace of mind

I've reconciled with the voice in
my head
I was on trial for things that
I've said

It's over somehow

I've tried to carry on with pride
I'm starting to die inside
I need a little peace of mind

I've reconciled with the voice in
my head
I was on trial for things that
I've said
It's over somehow
