

Midnight Fall, Football Is For People With Eyes

I guess im better off without knowing
then watching you do this to your self So take another drag try to blow your troubles into the sky we're better off without showing exactly what really goes on so take another drink and try to forget your troubles you can call this whatever you'd like but id like to think its something i've heard of thats called love you lay passed out and i can only cry pray for breath and hope this all turns out we can never change time but i hope i can change your mind its times like this i cant look your eyes bloodshot is something ive one too many times

i saw you you had hope in your eyes and i was so proud of you one week passed and all i could do was pray that you were alright

pray for breath and hope this all turns out

Am i strong enough or am i lying to myself?
