

Midnight Fall, Get Down, Get Fresh

This mission needs to stop houston, we have a problem, please return to base i'll sing this loud and clear to see if you are listening don't leave me hanging on the line waiting for some strange static to return to tell me its not okay i know that it's not alright but maybe it just take time ive got all the time in the world and ill be here

baby please come dance with me ill have my best shoes for grooving on wake up when you hear me screaming oh god
i think it's headed for us
take cover, angel

the meteors are coming down to earth all we can do is pray and hope that we can make it through this anticipate the worst and if it never comes, celebrate your existence

ill have my best shoes for grooving on
oh god
i think it's headed for us
take cover, angel

you'll wake up red eyed and short on time out of sight's not out of mind can you hear me through the static can you make your way back home before it all goes down can you feel my hand on your back can you hear the sirens blaring out a 9-1-1
