

Midnight Panic, I Want To Know

I want to know
What you are waiting for to change your life
My heart is a door
And all of the feelings run into my mind

Were on again, were off again
I try pretending this will mend
Cause I want you to stay

How could you know
How I am feeling
Nothing will change unless you start giving

I want to know
Why you still call me
Nothing is changing
I am left dealing inside

Im still confused with all of the feelings here inside my heart
I wish you were here
So that I can see you
Look into my eyes

Were on again, were off again
I try pretending this will mend
Cause I want you to stay

How could you know
How I am feeling
Nothing will change unless you start giving

I want to know
Why you still call me
Nothing is changing

Were on again, were off again

How could you know
How I am feeling how I am feeling
Nothing will change unless you start giving

I want to know
Why you still call me
Nothing is changing
