

Midtown, Recluse

i've heard advice that anger soon subsides and you go on with your life and gain new insight but inside i'm thinking that just wont suffice cause i'm sure i'd like to take it back and kill it at the start yeah
we're going far
yeah
it's from the heart
yeah
we're taking care of every single one of us who do you trust
if we could be recluse and i could inflict a lifetime of abuse anywhere i'd be killing you my anger still persists and it will not desist until i manifest on you it will not desist until i manifest wouldn't it be swell to test how thin i wear when i remember you
