

Miguel Bose, Child

When you were born into this world
Your mom and dad saw a dream fulfilled
Dream come true, the answer to their prayers
The world to them was a special child
They even enjoy every time you smile
It's time to cry, they're at your side again

Child you don't know, you'll never know
How far they'd go to give you all their love can give
To see you through, and God it's true
They'd die for you, if they must, to see you live

Many seasons came and went
So many years have now been spent
For time ran fast and now at last you're strong
Now what is scattered over you?
You seem to hate your parents, too
Speak out your mind
Why do you find them wrong?

Child you don't know, you'll never know
How far they'd go to give you all their love can give
To see you through, and God it's true
They'd die for you, if they must, to see you live

And now your path has gone astray
Child you ain't sure what to do or say
You're so alone, no friends are on your side
And child you now break down in tears
Let them drive away your fears
You must too go
Their arms stay open wide

Child you don't know, you'll never know
How far they'd go to give you all their love can give
To see you through, and God it's true
They'd die for you, if they must, to see you live
To see you through, and God it's true
They'd die for you, if they must, to see you live
To see you through, and God it's true
They'd die for you, if they must, to see you live...
