Mike Scott, Lucky Day / Bad Advice

You can't spend all your life sittin' on a cloud playing a twelve-string You can't spend all your life sittin' on a cloud playing a twelve-string

But you'll make this day again, this lucky, lucky day again but it's not just a day again until you touched it

Get yourself a pedal-steel player there's money in the cabaret business Get yourself a pedal-steel player there's money in the cabaret business You can't spend all your life sittin' on a cloud playing a twelve-string You can't spend all your life sittin' on a cloud playing a twelve-string

But you'll make this day again, this lucky, lucky day again but it's not just a day again until you touched it

Don't put that song in your album you don't need no sax in the band Don't put that song in your album you don't need no sax in the band Get yourself a pedal-steel player there's money in the cabaret business You can't spend all your life sittin' on a cloud playing a twelve-string

But you'll make this day again, this lucky, lucky day again but it's not just a day again until you touched it

Wake up you gotta make a change you gotta dress like one of the Levellers Don't put that song in your album you don't need no sax in the band Get yourself a pedal-steel player there's money in the cabaret business You can't spend all your life sittin' on a cloud playing a twelve-string