Mimi Webb, Freezing

you told me everything to make me stay
You told me everybody makes mistakes
And it was over I guess
But I was still in your bed
Thought I could keep you as a just in case
You only call me when you know I'm out
Or when there's no one that you know around
You should pretend that I'm dead
Because sometimes you forget that we're not together
Count to three, you'd better believe
I've shut that door and swallowed the keys
I said that we'd chill, then I ran for the hills
If I was cold, then now I'm freezing
Woke up and saw I was bleeding
Promise I'm done and now I really mean it
Abandoning ship, you're not getting the hint
Said it was over, I was leaving
If that was cold, then now I'm freezing
I thought that you would be my getaway
I thought you would be my endgame
But you were just like the rest
Couldn't help make a mess when we said we're not together
Go get gone
Go and find someone
Forget us, us
Count to three, you'd better believe
I've shut that door and swallowed the keys
I said that we'd chill, then I ran for the hills
If I was cold, then now I'm freezing
Woke up and saw I was bleeding
Promise I'm done and now I really mean it
Abandoning ship, you're not getting the hint
Said it was over, I was leaving
If I was cold, then now I'm freezing
If I was cold, then now I'm freezing
Oh, you'd better, you'd better believe it
When I'm gone I'm gone and I mean it, I mean it
Said it was over, I was leaving
If that was cold, then now
Count to three, you'd better believe
I've shut that door and swallowed the keys
I said that we'd chill, then I ran for the hills
If I was cold, then now I'm freezing
Woke up and saw I was bleeding
Promise I'm done and now I really mean it
Abandoning ship, you're not getting the hint
Said it was over, I was leaving
If that was cold, then now I'm freezing
