

Mimi Webb, The Other Side

In my head I'd already left
Forwarded all my mail to my new address
In my heart I was on the other side

On my birthday the penny dropped
Being with you meant being somebody I'm not
Now I'm alive underneath the Soho lights

I was, I was young and dumb in love before you
Truth is, two years I made sacrifices for you

I know it ain't fair
I'm in somebody else's bed
Now I'm somebody else
Fighting for me would be wasting your time
Already gone, already out, I'm on the other side

In new arms I can breathe again
Only him and Egyptian cotton on my skin
It's kinda perfect here on the other side

I was, I was young and dumb in love before you
Truth is, two years I made sacrifices for you

I know it ain't fair
I'm in somebody else's bed
Now I'm somebody else
Fighting for me would be wasting your time
Already gone, already out, I'm on the other side

Oh oh-oh
Oh oh-oooh-oh
Oh oh-oh
On the other side
On the other side
Already gone, already out, I'm on the other side

On the other side
On the other side

I know it ain't fair
I'm in somebody else's bed
Now I'm somebody else
Fighting for me would be wasting your time
Already gone, already out, I'm on the other side

Yeah
I'm in somebody else's bed
Now I'm somebody else
Fighting for me would be wasting your time
Already gone, already out, I'm on the other side

Oh oh-oh
Oh oh-oooh-oh
Oh oh-oh
On the other side
On the other side
Already gone, already out, I'm on the other side
