

Mindi Abair, True Love

you love me but you won't admit that you need me but you won't commit the words to me but it's so easy to see that i love you and i'll be the one to say that i need you and someday i'll even write a song for you and you'll say you love me too

i know better than you
i see better than you
i know what you won't do for love don't think if you don't say it don't think if you don't show it that it's not true love

you've kissed me you've kissed a million girls before but you hold me so close that i can feel the way you do or at least the way i want you to you say that words get in the way but i wish that you'd say them anyway i fell for you i'm sure it's nothing new but i know better than you

so much for showing you my heart next time i'll keep it to myself you know that i'm just another sentimental hopeless girl
