

Miss Conduct, Devotion

Need to fill my addiction
Until I bask in the emotion
The presence of my
Devotion
I could stand here and scream
That I want out
Or my heart could explode
Into passion
There's something about how you know
Something I doubt you would ever find out
Even if I told you
There's something about what you say
Something I doubt you would ever find out
Even if I showed you
Can't take my eyes
Your eyes
I could stand here and scream
That I want out
Or my heart could explode
Into passion
There's something about how you know
Something I doubt you would ever find out
Even if I told you
There's something about what you say
Something I doubt you would ever find out
Even if I showed you
