

Miss Kittin & The Hacker, Walking in the Sunshine

I love men who are not the same, bathroom singers with no name, sex machines, old school babe, disco dancers in their game.
I love men every kind,
they're so cute when they smile, thinking love is not a crime, walking in the sunshine.
I love men when they love me, I feel the only one to be,
it's a power so crazy,
the most stupid lyrics you never hear.
I love men like bobby orlando, the flirts composer a long time ago, it makes me laugh a lot, you know, but I don't want to show.
I love men who feel unique, especially in the musique, when their ego becomes too big,
I disappear pretty quick.
I love men, I leave them, I'm a bitch in the system, but i'm really not to blame, because love is always the same.
