

Miss Kittin & The Hacker, You and us

Listen to Miss Kittin and the hacker's new direction.

Driving a car or three on three,
giving you a piece of life and
energy somewhere out in the universe, for a novel.

We try to analyze feelings,
thinking about you,
friends, mountains, and party times.

I wish you could see us,
how we are, how we love and hate.
This is what our music is about, you and us.

This is what our music is about, you and us.

This is what our music is about, you and us.

This is what our music is about.

Listen to Miss Kittin and the Hacker,
our mind is real, on a cloud,
when someone's playing us in a club at night.

And receive smiling on the dance floor,
trying to forget everything.

We don't know you,
but you are a part of ourselves,
and we can look in to your eyes,
wherever you are.

Because this is what our music is about, you and us.

Cause That is what our music is about, you and us.

Listen to Miss Kittin and The Hacker,
we take planes, from hotels every weekend,
we drive on the highway to other places,
looking at the landscape running behind the window,
we are all alone.

Listen to something on the stereo.

We would like to see skyline and city lights of New York,
or Tokyo and then come back to the great fields we know,
and do nothing! And sleep! And do that again and again.

Because, this is what our music is about, you and us.

This is what our music is about, you and us.

This is what our music is about, you and us.

Listen to Miss Kittin and The Hacker,
because this is what our music is about, you and us.

You, and us.

Driving a car or three on three,
giving you a piece of life and
energy somewhere out in the universe, for a novel.

We try to analyze feelings,
thinking about you,
friends, mountains, and party times.

I wish you could see us,
how we are, how we love and hate.

This is what our music is about, you and us.

This is what our music is about, you and us.

You and us.

This is what our music is about, you and us.

This is what our music is about, you and us.

We would like to see skyline and city lights of New York,
or Tokyo and then come back to the great fields we know,
and do nothing. And sleep. And do that again and again.

This is what our music is about, you and us.

This is what our music is about, you and us.

You and us.

You and us.

You and us.

You and us.

This is what our music is about.

You and us.

You and us.

You and us.
You and us.
You and us.
