

Missy Higgins, Hold Me Tight

You cross the room to me put a little bit of paper in my hand then leave and as the door goes bang there's a little bit inside me that hopes it is blank but as the words you wrote are burning in my head they keep on turning they say hold me tight, cos im loosing all the energy to fight yeh hold me tight,

now i should run outside i should be running after you i should need to cry oh but i dont i stay coz there's a litte bit inside me that likes this pain and as the words you wrote are burning in my head they keep on turning they say hold me tight, cos im loosing all the energy to fight yeh hold me tight, cos im loosing all the energy to fight for you so i threw it away laying next to the others that had the same reframe hold me tight, coz im loosing all the energy to fight yeh hold me tight ive been throwing pointless fla so hold me tight,

so hold me tight,
cos im loosing all the energy ahhh yeh im loosing all the energy to fight
