

Mitchel Musso, Speed Dial

I remember you giving me your number when I met you
I remember you asking me if I could walk you home
I remember you said to me you wanted to be my girlfriend
Its funny how these things dont last for long
Not funny how I dont know the way to carry on
Tell me how am I supposed to get you off my mind
When you know I really couldnt even if I tried
But I guess in the meanwhile Im taking you off the speed dial
Tell me how am I supposed to get you off my mind
And every time I hear the song it used to play when you called
I used to want to sing along but now I wanna die
I dont listen to the radio Im trying to forget you
It doesnt help because I see you all the time
Your new boyfriend used to be the closest friend of mine
Tell me how am I supposed to get you off my mind
When you know I really couldnt even if I tried
But I guess in the meanwhile Im taking you off the speed dial
Tell me how am I supposed to get you off my mind
Im deleting all the memories
Just the pictures being
The tragedies
I dont want to go on living in denial
Im taking you off the speed dial
Im taking you off the speed dial
Tell me how am I supposed to get you off my mind
When you know I really couldnt even if I tried
But I guess in the meanwhile Im taking you off the speed dial
Tell me how am I supposed to get you off my mind
When you know I really couldnt even if I tried
But I guess in the meanwhile Im taking you off the speed dial
Tell me how am I supposed to get you off my mind
Im taking you off the speed dial
At least for a while
