

Mo' Keb', I'm Tellin You Now

So much has been unspoken along the way
Hearts have healed and hearts have broken
In the pain of yesterday
Gone are the shadows, vanished in the night
Let your heart surrender, let your soul take flight

Let bygones be bygones, and troubles be long gone
And if I never told you how I feel about ya
I'm tellin you now

We gather here together-all of our friends
In a room full of love and laughter
The healin begins
And if this was my last moment, my last breath
I'd want to be surrounded with joy and happiness

And let bygones be bygones, and troubles be long gone
And if I never told you how I feel about ya
I'm tellin you now
