

Mobile, Bleeding Words

Blue moon in a black sky
Peaceful silence, violent night
Better keep them silent
Words are amplified

You can easily throw them away
Where they will stay on someone else's mind
I need to tell you so but you'll be the last to know
No warning for you

Words to convince, words to deny
Speakin' the language of love and lies
Bleeding words, they lead to joy and sorrow
Freedom to death row

Hopelessly she said I'm so sorry
It's nothing like I ever heard
'Cause nothing hurts like your bleeding words
Words you use to hurt me

You can easily throw them away
Where they will stay on someone else's mind
I need to tell you so that you'll be the last to know
Never wanted to bring you down so far
All the best things in disguise
We have no choice there is no going back

Promises, promises
Everything we said everything we tried
Between me and you the endless silence took over
We've run right out of words

Hopelessly she said I'm so sorry
It's nothing like I ever heard
'Cause nothing hurts like you bleeding words
Words you use to hurt me
Bleeding words used without a care

Nothing hurts like, nothing hurts like your bleeding words
Nothing hurts like, nothing hurts like your bleeding words
Nothing hurts like, nothing hurts like your bleeding words
Nothing hurts like, nothing hurts like your bleeding words
