

MOD SUN, Battle Scars

I like the first shot better than the last.
You always pour a little too much in my glass.
We're always throwing words, it's hard to take them back but we do it anyway.
Yeah we clean up well but we're a mess.
And it's hard to say who's filled with more regret.
Promise the last time would really be the last but here we go anyway...

I say it's time for the truth
You say it's time that I leave
I think the problem is you, is you, is you...
You think the problem is me.
Now it's your word against mine
We don't know who to believe
I think the problem is you, is you, is you...
You think the problem is me.

Go in circles and bringing up the past.
Feels like I'm tip-toeing on broken glass.
So many battle scars that now I'm losing track and there's nothing left to save.
So break the news again to all our friends.
It's such a shame that we couldn't see the end.
It's the last time, it really is the last I can't go another day.

I say it's time for the truth
You say it's time that I leave
I think the problem is you, is you, is you...
You think the problem is me.
Now it's your word against mine
We don't know who to believe
I think the problem is you, is you, is you...
You think the problem is me.

Now it's your word against mine.
We don't know who to believe.
I think the problem is you, is you, is you, is you, it's you.....

I say it's time for the truth
I know it's time that I leave
I know the problem is you, is you, is you...
It can't be me.
Oh fuck your word against mine.
We all know who to believe.
I know the problem is you, is you, is you...
You think the problem is me.
