

Modwheelmood, Money For Good

Come again
don't leave me on my own embrace the God I used to call my own Everyday
I'm living on my own forgive me for the things I leave untold Keep on calling keep on crawling
Everything is falling and pushing me Far away from everything I used to be and remember why everyone must go Hello far away
from everything you should have said would be better now
everything is wrong
far away from anything I should be singing Holiday
you're spending on your own you're searching for an answer to it all Sweet embrace you lost that long ago then memories remind you what you own Keep on calling keep on crawling
Everything is falling and pushing me
Far away from everything I used to be
and remember why everyone must go
would be better now
everything is wrong
far away from anything I should be singing Money for good
