

Moments In Grace, Stratus

Feeling the sunlight breaking down our souls
Learning that love will soon be the sign
Promise of new days, and a new day will be born
Feeling the sunlight beating down us all

I will wait
here inside the stolen one in love for all.
And i cry
for the death of our dove.
another lover paints the sky.

Feeling the sunlight breaking down our souls
Learning that love will soon be the sign
Promise of new days, and a new day will be born
Feeling the sunlight beating down us all

I lie awake alone with these burning scars
and the sunlight is gone.
The stratus covers the sky you lie upon and i can't wait.

And we, we could lie there together.
And we, we could lie there forever.
And we, we could lie there together.
And we, we could die there together.

Feeling the sunlight breaking down our souls
Learning that love will soon be the sign
Promise of new days, and a new day will be born
Feeling the sunlight beating down us all

The stratus covers us all.
