

Mona Ray, The Aviator Set

Did you see the sky come falling down
From the window in your bedroom with those people all around
I could tell that you were frightened by the sound
Said the trembling in your voice,
Dont ever let the ending get you down

And I wanted you to know that I am always thinking of you
And the things I do, well, theyre all for you

Well it kept up, love, it kept up raining
The sun had whispered all its sweetness and said goodbye (its gone)
And Im sorry, yeah, Im sorry cause I was wrong
If I could only find the words to keep you holding on and on

(Shes wide awake and Im still dreaming away)
The moon hangs low and she tells me things
About love and loss and believing in something
Till this numbing feeling comes over me (till Im)
So high that I can sleep tight
