

Moneen, How To Live With The Thought That So

No, somehow you somehow knew.
You said, you said you might be leaving.
You must be crazy, you'll live to one hundred and one.
Somehow you somehow knew.
You said you might be leaving.
I won't say goodbye, and I refuse to watch you die.
I won't forget.
You said you'll know.
You said, you said you'll go.
You must be crazy, to die is no cure at all.
Please don't go.
What you said, and it won't take too long.
If what you said was true, you said was true.
I won't say goodbye, and I refuse to watch you die.
Cause if you scream do something, please scream do something.
I won't say goodbye... I won't forget.
Please do something... scream do something.
In your dreams you don't need it, in your dreams you can't use it.
It won't take too long.
