

Moneybrother, Feelings, Getting Stronger In The

Lay your head
Lay your lovely head
Down on my knee
Early Morning time

Tonight was alright
Will you stay once the morning has come
Will the look in your eye be the same once the darkness has gone
Do you love me

Or did the wine intensify your feelings,
Made it all seem right
And now the day is not at all as magic as the night

Caressing your hair as the morning comes inevitably
Just holding you close not knowing what tomorrow might be
Do you love me

Or did the wine intensify your feelings,
Made it all feel right
And now the day is not at all as magic as the night

Oh, no

Feelings that grow stronger in the dark
Will be lost in the light
They'll be lost in the light
