

Moneybrother, It Is Time For Falling Apart

just about that time now the working week is through know you understand, love it's the time for me and you soon we'll be out dancing no need to be alone i can feel it happening the night has been brought on don't you feel it happening?
and i know it is time for falling apart i just know it is time for falling apart you ready for the night, girl? cause here it comes again her eyes, they narrowed on me it's really happening we'll about there dancing keep going till the dawn it's about that time, love
the night has been brought on
and i know it is time for falling apart
it could have been the one that would last but the future's always messed up with my past
