

Monika Ferens, Angel's Wings

Ive met an angel on my way
With long blond hair
And dark blue eyes
You can find pain and joy everywhere
But you wouldnt see the smile like his
Nowhere else
Ive seen the smoke without the fire
And immortal who died
I know the God with the sin
The fact which denied
But I have never seen
Someone compareble
And Ill never gonna see him again
Cause hes gone
Dont make the same mistake like me
And hold your angels wings eternely
So long time passed since hes gone
With the northern light
Was he worth to fight?
The every inch of his white skin
Was prize to win
I was forced to give in
I loved his unbeatable hello
Repeating still in my mind
I remember this day
When he said it one last time
It was my fault
And its built up deep in me
And Ill never gonna see him again
Cause hes released
Dont make the same mistake like me
And hold your angels wings eternely
Dont make the same mistake like me
And hold your angels wings eternely, eternely....
