Monika Ferens, Signs

Its quarter to midnight And I try to write Cause I feel I that need to describe a stuff Lots of things happen In my short life Which sittuation should I describe first? Right now things feel so right But my future seems to stay unknown It makes me ill God give me signs tonight I hate to fight with the dust in my eyes Please let me know [Chorus] Another day has just began Where will I go today? Who will I meet, will I cry? Will I even be able to survive? Who will kill my loneliness? Did I deserve this guys kiss? God let me know who I am? Will I change or I stay the same? My mother fallen asleep Its already two a.m I still try to describe this who I am today This selfish need Waits to find the speed Ill find the way and wont be lost again God do I lead my life right? After cruel despair and unfair fights? I dont really know Is anything here fine? I hate not knowing give me signs tonight Please let me know [Chorus] Right now things seem so right But my future seems to stay unknown God give me signs, yeah [Chorus 2x]
