

Monoral, Goodbye

How could you blame it all on me
After the gains and the pains we shared
How'd you pretend not knowing anything
Between you and me it's been an endless game

How deep can you go?
How deep can you go?

The words are so meaningless
I close your lips and wave goodbye
And now
Your words keep me thinking on and off
Of what we used to be
Goodbye

How could you be so far away
Breaking the plans that I've made today
How could you make it on your own
When I am bearily hanging on

How deep can you go?
How deep can you go?

The words are so meaningless
I close your lips and wave goodbye
And now
Your words keep me thinking on and off
Of what we used to be
Goodbye
