

Monrose, Stained

Stained, stained, stained Stained

Right now
There's a tearmark on my face
And I know somehow
You are to blame
Everybody not just friends of mine
Can look at me and see
I'm not over you
Like a scarlet woman with a sign
For loneliness

Chorus:

I was proud
such a fool and now I'm comparing everyone to you
It's a lie
That extraordinary love could happen twice
Let me say
If you asked me back I wouldn't hesitate
When you left you've left me stained Stained stained Stained

So i tried
To erase all trace of emptyness stuck on me
But it remains
And even when i want to cover up
Layer after layer it is showing trough
Something tells me if I should give it up
So I say it once again

Chorus:

I was proud
such a fool
and now I'm comparing everyone to you
It's a lie
That extraordinary love could happen twice
Let me say
If you asked me back I wouldn't hesitate
Stained stained Stained
(2x)
