

Monster Movie, Return To Yesterday

Is it cold by the northern lights now?
I remember when it all came and went
Snowflakes on the ground
Wind the only sound as we walked across the frozen rain
Till it went away
Till you went away
And I'm waiting for your call
But it never came
I guess something changed
Did your words mean nothing at all?
Somehow complicated
Will we return to yesterday again?

Feeling lost in the city night now
It's the summer now it feels cold somehow
When I hear the sound
Voices on the ground
Still I never get away
Never get away

And I waited for your call
But it never came
I guess something changed
Did your words mean nothing at all?
Somehow complicated
Will we return to yesterday again?
Never get away
Never get away
Never get away
Never get away
