

Montgomery Gentry, Break My Heart Again

How many Mrs. Rights have I handled wrong
Every one thats come along
How many finish lines have I had in sight and never crossed
Everyone I ever saw
When it looks like I might win
I go and break my heart again

Things aren't good unless their bad
And I ain't happy til I'm sad
When I see the good life closing in
I go and break my heart
Break my heart again

Why do I think I can when I know I wont
I always end up alone
Why would a lonely man hold love in his hands and let it go
Well I dont know
All I know is in the end
I go and break my heart again

Things aren't good unless their bad
And I ain't happy til I'm sad
When I see the good life closing in
I go and break my heart
Break my heart again

Things aren't good unless their bad
And I ain't happy til I'm said
When I see the good life closing in
I go and break my heart
Break my heart again

And I break my heart again

And I break my heart again

And I break my heart again
